Latest Progress on Recommendations – Implementation Working Group

At the most recent meeting held on 20 February 2023, the group discussed medical interventions, models of care, operations and consumer engagement.

The group has now reviewed all 122 recommendations and has determined that:

- 58 recommendations are already completed
- 64 recommendations are already underway but require further work or additional evidence

We have made significant progress on the recommendations still underway and we will continue making sure that work stays on track and is completed to a high standard.

The report recommended that all recommendations be underway or completed within 6 months of the receipt of the report. We are very pleased that this target has now been achieved ahead of schedule.

Update on staff survey on clinical handover and training enhancements

We received 24 responses from staff within the Women's Health Unit which was a great response rate. The feedback from staff was positive demonstrating that real enhancements have been made with respect to both the clinical handover processes and training on offer.

The leadership team is currently reviewing the results and is already working on some of the feedback and the response to it. For example, our staff said that they wanted additional sepsis training and this was arranged for Wednesday 22 February. Also, in response to feedback we are now reviewing the current clinical handover demonstration videos to make them a better educational tool for our staff members.

Staff feedback also showed that there is still more work to do, and the O&G Implementation Working Group will discuss this at our next meeting on 6 March.

Last day for EOI – sub-committee on physical environment

We are looking for interested people to join our sub-committee on the physical environment. There are a number of recommendations related to the Mackay Expansion Project which includes the P-Block and Birth Centre redevelopment projects. The sub-committee will report directly to the Implementation Working Group.

Next steps

Our next Implementation Working Group meeting is scheduled for 6 March 2023, where the group will be reviewing the findings from the staff survey, looking at performance reporting and considering more community engagement opportunities.
