Latest progress on recommendations

At the most recent meeting held on 17 April 2023, the Implementation Working Group discussed a number of topics including:

- Viewing the updated Maternity Dashboard which is currently in the testing phase
- Staffing updates
- RANZCOG accreditation status
- Morbidity and Mortality meetings

At our meeting, the group has determined that:

- 76 recommendations are already completed
- 46 recommendations are already underway but require further work or additional evidence.

Last chance to have your say - consultation on draft Mackay Charter of Maternity Care Principles now live

In 2022, the Mackay Hospital and Health Service undertook extensive consultation through the Maternity Co-Design Project, to understand the thoughts and ideas of our consumers, staff and community on the delivery of maternity care.

This work resulted in 2,800 pieces of feedback which we've used to develop a draft Charter of Maternity Care Principles, and now we want to hear what you think about this draft.

Click here to complete the survey. The survey period will close at 5pm on Monday 24 April 2023 so please get your feedback in soon!

Staffing update

In March we have welcomed two new, highly qualified and experienced consultants to our team. This increase brings our consultant team to five. In June, we will welcome a sixth consultant followed by a seventh in September. This improvement in staffing ensures that we are building a more sustainable service with reduced reliance on locum support.

Next steps

Our next Implementation Working Group meeting is scheduled for 22 May 2023, where the group will continue to assess progress on recommendations including our booking processes and open disclosure training. The group will also get updates on our performance reporting and the results of the consultation on the draft Mackay Charter of Maternity Care Principles.
